TAL INTERNATIONAL CONTAINER CORPORATION

TAL International is one of the world's largest container leasing companies, with over $1 billion in assets.

TAL's equipment fleet includes approximately 1 million TEUs (twenty-foot equivalent units) of dry cargo, refrigerated and specialized containers, and as of 2005, includes container chassis as well. With a global network of 19 offices and 190 depot facilities, TAL provides unmatched container supply capability and customer service.

TAL was one of the pioneers of containerization. We were founded in 1963 soon after the development of containerized trade, and today we serve virtually every major shipping line in the world. TAL provides equipment from over 190 worldwide locations. We offer our customers a variety of leasing options designed to help them manage uncertain cargo demand, balance trade flows, manage seasonality and finance their growth. Our lease structures are often specifically tailored to our customers' unique operating and financial requirements.

Tradexonline® (at www.talinternational.com), the web interface for our powerful Terms equipment management system, allows customers to conduct many transactions with us electronically, including reviewing our equipment specifications, checking container availability, booking containers for pick-up, clearing containers for drop-off and reviewing repair estimates.

TAL is also a market leader in several operational services for the shipping industry. Our Trader division sells used containers for TAL and several shipping lines, and we believe Trader is the largest seller of used containers in the world. Our Greyslot division brokers available vessel slots to transport thousands of our customers' empty containers each month back to high demand areas.

TAL is committed to extending its market leadership into the future. TAL has recently initiated a major investment program to renew and expand our fleet, and we plan to invest over $1 billion over the next three to four years in new containers and chassis.

TAL LEASES PROVIDE

OPERATING FLEXIBILITY. The timing, location and daily volume of cargo movements for a shipping line are often unpredictable. Our leases help our customers manage uncertainty and minimize the requirement for large inventory buffers by allowing them to pick up leased containers on short notice.

FLEET SIZE FLEXIBILITY. Our lease structures allow shipping lines to adjust the size of their fleets as trade lane volumes change due to seasonality, market changes or changes in company strategies.

ALTERNATIVE SOURCE OF FINANCING. Our leases provide an additional source of equipment financing to help our customers manage the high level of investment required to keep pace with the rapid growth of the asset-intensive container industry.

TYPES OF LEASES OFFERED BY TAL

OPERATING LEASES. Operating leases are structured to allow flexibility to pick up containers on short notice and to drop off containers prior to the end of their useful life.

SERVICE LEASES provide our customers with the highest level of flexibility by allowing pick up and drop off of containers on short notice, when and where required.

LONG-TERM LEASES provide our customers with a lower daily rental rate in return for a fixed term commitment, between three to eight years.

FINANCE LEASES. Finance leases provide customers with an alternative method to finance their container acquisitions by including purchase options at the end of the lease. In addition, by continuously purchasing containers throughout the year, TAL can provide customers with a finance lease for new in stock containers, thereby eliminating their wait for new production.

TRADER LEASES. Trader Leases provide shipping lines the ability to dispose of older containers in bulk. Trader will typically purchase containers and then lease the containers back to the shipping line under a service lease. The containers can then be dropped off, when and where it is convenient. These transactions range from a few thousand to over 20,000 units, and provide logistical flexibility while allowing shipping lines a hassle-free means of disposing of older containers.

LOGISTICS LEASES. Logistics Leases are structured with specific customer's imbalances in mind to maximize the value of specific shipments. TAL combines its operational expertise, and its Greyslot, Trader and global re-leasing capabilities to provide one-way lease opportunities tailored on a case by case basis. In many instances, our organization becomes the shipping lines help desk in solving complex logistical challenges by providing equipment from the cargo's point of origin to destination.
